PILOT LOGLINE:

When a heroin-addicted chemistry prodigy who has created a deadly stockpile of a chemical weapon to save her mother's failing cosmetics empire rebels by stealing it, the company's disloyal security chief, a disgraced CIA operative, and a Palestinian freedom fighter each spring into action for different reasons to learn the weapon's secret formula.

SEASON ONE SYNOPSIS:

A weapon of mass destruction is about to be sold to the highest bidder in New York City, but Delta Force veteran and CIA operative-turned-drug-counselor, Daniel Strong, has been reactivated to stop it. His mark: a brilliant but arguably broken young chemist, Dr. Katelyn Carrie, the adopted daughter of cosmetic industry mogul Vanessa Carrie.

Under the watchful eye of Vanessa's ruthless security chief, Gunther McGore, a man with a shady MI-6 past, Kate has developed a deadly new chemical weapon that will save Vanessa's failing company and flagging reputation. But when Vanessa and Gunther use Kate to eliminate an undercover agent who gets too close to learning her secret formula that she has committed to memory, she steals the vials that contain the world's only stockpile in a last-ditch attempt to break free from Vanessa's emotional grip on her life.

More important than the weapon itself is its chemical formula locked inside Kate's mind. But Vanessa, Gunther, and the CIA aren't the only ones who want it: a Palestinian freedom fighter with a reputation for torture and murder also intends to attack Israel with it.

As Kate and Danny's relationship deepens, Kate begins to gather the strength to distance herself from Vanessa's psychopathy, deal with her addiction, and accept responsibility for her deadly creation. Danny ultimately decides to protect Kate and leads the charge against the dark forces that want her deadly secret.
